LETTER FROM NEW YORK

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

NEW YORK, November 30 1865

The recent murder in Brooklyn has created an amount of sensation in our community second to no similar occurrence. The facts, so far as at present developed, appear to be as follows: Mr Otero kept a hotel in Cardenas, and was fortunate enough to draw a prize of fifty thousand dollars in the Havana Lottery. With the acquisition of new wealth he built or was building a new theatre for that city, and taking some ten or fifteen thousand dollars with him, he came to this city to purchase machinery, gas fixtures, chandeliers, etc. He arrived and put up at the Barcelona Hotel, where nearly all Cubans resort. One Gonzales made his acquaintance, and Gonzales being a needy adventurer of villainous aspect—and ingratiated himself into the feelings of Otero, who made him a companion. One [illegible] evening Gonzales (who had evidently planned the horrible deed with others as needy and as wicked as himself) prevailed on Otero to take a walk to Brooklyn, and when crossing City Park (an unlighted, forbidding, lonely place) they murdered their victim, inflicting no less than thirteen horribly ghastly wounds upon his body. The dark and bloody deed accomplished, in their haste to get away the murderers took only about a hundred dollars in bankable money, leaving some two hundred dollars in gold on his person. They took five drafts, however, amounting to about eight thousand dollars, which were of no use whatever to them, as payment had been stopped. In the struggle one of the villains had his hands cut by a razor and dropped a glove which fitted one of the parties (named Pellicer), who was arrested the next day on an outgoing Havana steamer. This Pellicer subsequently made a confession which unearthed Gonzales, and these two scoundrels are now awaiting trial. Our police are awarded great praise for their promptness in this matter.

OLD BOREAS

paid our Atlantic coast a rough visit some days since and left many a wreck in his track. Several of the tales of shipwreck and distress are perfectly heart rending. The coast of Florida was perfectly covered with wrecked stuff, derelict hulls and broken cargo, and hardly an arrival at this port but has reported having passed pieces of wrecks, portions of floating cargoes, and many have brought the remnants of crews picked off fortunately from rafts, half swamped boats, etc. A vessel arrived yesterday bringing the captain and crew of the schooner J. G. Sweet, which was wrecked on the Florida coast. The captain and crew managed to get on a small sand island, where they lived four days and nights without water or food, part of the time under water, when they managed to construct a raft and reach the main land, where they subsequently managed to work their way through the woods, fighting wolves and starvation, finally reaching a town. This is only one of many similar cases, the recital of which occupies portions of our daily papers.

THE FENIANS

have managed to dreadfully scare our Canuck brethren in Canada. The Toronto people have been kept awake o' nights in hourly expectancy of seeing a thousand or so of blood thirsty Irishmen with pipes in their mouths, shillelahs in their left and revolvers in their right hands, standing over them with murderous intent, but nary a Fenian has yet turned up in their locality, and they now sleep comparatively easy. The friends of the Fenians say ominously that the time has not yet come. The of the Irish Republic has been opened in this city, and the Head Centre is here surrounded with all the luxuries that the money collected from the sons and daughters of the Emerald Isle so freely give in aid of the cause can furnish. The bonds are said to sell quite rapidly, and such must be the fact, or the high officials could not afford to pay a cool thousand per month for rent of their capitol. The green flag of Erin floats over the magnificent mansion, surmounted by the star and stripes, and considerable business appears to be going on there.

DEAD

Van Amburgh, the celebrated lion tamer, is dead. No more will he delight the lovers of natural history, admiring servant girls and mawkish young and old women with his apparently dangerous feats of tempting a live lion to make a morsel of his head. Probably no man in the world has travelled more in the circus business than Van, as he was familiarly called, and no man ever has been proprietor of so many of these travelling entertainments.

CONSPIRACIES

have got to be quite fashionable. Some are conspiracies to make money at the expense of the public in one way or another. One of these latter has been exposed in Brooklyn, and shows that the master workmen there have been in the habit of returning a great many more men on the pay rolls than were employed. Some arrests have been made.

A conspiracy to release prisoners from the Ludlow street jail was frustrated this week. It appears that three forgers were there incarcerated, who expected with the aid of outside friends to break jail and again prey upon our community, but our police were too sharp for them, and two of their outside pals have been arrested.

EXECUTIONS

have taken place in New Jersey and in Buffalo which, from their accompanying circumstances, must furnish additional arguments to those opposed to capital punishment. At the execution in New Jersey the culprit, who had murdered his wife, was humbly penitent and prayed fervently for his soul upon the scaffold, while not far distant noisy men and women were gaping in admiration (?) of the awful scene, smoking and drinking meanwhile, and turbulent boys were peddling the murderer's lying confession. At Buffalo the villain fairly danced upon the scaffold, helped the executioner adjust the rope, and in a loud voice bade the multitude to "see how a brave Dutchman can die," and then kicked himself into the world on the other side of the Styx specially prepared for murderers. Add to this the fact that when Wirz was swung off hundreds of soldiers and citizens actually cheered him into the presence of the Devil, and there is not much argument to advance against life incarceration.

CHILI

The outbreak of war between Spain and Chili has filled New York with rumors that Chile, through her agents, was purchasing in this market large quantities of arms and materials of war. One rumor was that a certain vessel was to be fitted out as a privateer, an ex rebel officer gave out openly that he was to command her, and gave even a list of the officers under him. There is not a particle of truth in these stories; the Chilian Government has no purpose at the present time to fit out privateers or even issue letters of marque. There are no persons authorized to purchase arms or war materials here, so that the yarns which have been spun by our gun dealers are not strong enough to weave into a web just yet. Many Spaniards as well as Chilenians are of opinion that there will be no serious encounter or blood shed, and that the Government of Spain will see the folly of Admiral Pareja's course and not attempt to carry out his threats.

THE PACIFIC FLEET

Which left Fortress Monroe about a month or six weeks ago has been heard from to day. The [illegible] arrived at St Thomas on the 10th of November and sailed again on the 1st. The [illegible], Monadnock and Powhatan all sailed on the 18th from St Thomas for Cayenne (the latest reached that port [illegible]). They will probably reach San Francisco about the last of March, as they will stop at several ports on the route. That there is in future to be a good fleet kept in the Pacific coast is now beyond question, and American interests in that quarter will not be allowed to suffer in this respect.

A NEGRO OUTBREAK

Is feared at the South. It appears that the planters have not been so unmindful of the negro's interests as the latter think they should have been, and some persons have foolishly inculcated into the negro's head that the coming Christmas is to be made a grand day of jubilation by the division of the land at the South among them. The result has been that the negroes refuse to make any contracts for next year's labor, averring that they are to have everything their own way after Christmas. The officers of the Freedmen's Bureau have been endeavoring to disabuse the negroes and have been partially successful, but still the planters feel somewhat shaky, and in Georgia and Alabama there are some [illegible] of such an outbreak. God help the South if they are so visited—for they certainly have [illegible] accepted their new relations to the negroes in a very liberal spirit.

A TOBACCO CONVENTION

Has just been held in this city and resolutions adopted requesting the removal of the Government tax from the manufactured article to the raw material. Statistics laid before the body showed the receipts at the Department at Washington from tobacco, cigars, etc., for the year ending June 30th 1865 at $11,383,864 80. The whole number of cigars returned was 51,608,021, and number of pounds of tobacco 26,852,422. If it will make any improvement in the quality of the execrable cigars now to be found everywhere, it is earnestly to be hoped the Convention may succeed in their object.

THE PACIFIC MAIL COMPANY

Will place the steamer Ariel on the line between New Orleans, Havana and Aspinwall on the 1st of January. She has been thoroughly overhauled and is said to be in fine condition. I presume she will have a consort or two. This route will be a great convenience to passengers from California to the West Indies and the Southern States.

THE NEW BRAZILIAN STEAM LINE

The steamship South America sails to day for Rio Janeiro under command of Capt. Tinklepaugh. The South America was formerly the steamer Fort Jackson, a United States gunboat, and is a strong and speedy vessel. The North America, which took out the South American mails last month, was formerly the Connecticut, also a United States gunboat, and considered one of the staunchest and fastest vessels in the Navy. The Brazilian line has three fine vessels in the Havana and North and South America, and is likely to prove a successful experiment. The Havana is hourly expected from Rio, having been absent from this port two months, and will probably bring a large cargo of coffee and sugar, and a considerable number of passengers.

GENERAL SCOTT

Is about to leave for New Orleans and Key West. He will pass the winter in these places for the benefit of his health, which is feeble, though he still preserves the erect carriage and military air of his younger days. Surgeon Lewis Taylor, United States Army, has been relieved from duty to accompany General Scott to his destination and remain as long as his services are required by the old hero, after which he will report for duty at Fort Taylor, Key West.

NEBRASKA A STATE

The people of Nebraska are desirous of seeing their Territory a State. The main reason is a wish to advance their interests in the matter of the Pacific Railroad, in which Kansas and Colorado are getting ahead of them.

CITY RAILROADS,

It has been decided by the Court of Appeals, are not liable to municipal taxation.

CUSTOM HOUSE FRAUDS

The examination of Wm Chase Barney, Banthan, Fabian and Capt. Reynolds Chauncey, accused of having defrauded the United States of $10,000 by means of fraudulent bonds, on which they obtained three hundred barrels of whisky, commenced to-day. Barney, who was recently employed in the Custom House, was arrested in this city. The others were arrested in Richmond and brought here.

THE DAVENPORTS

A. M. Fay, formerly connected with the Davenport Brothers, who have created such a rumpus in Europe by their humbug spiritual manifestations, sails for the "old country" on Saturday to assist in exposing their underhanded performances.

MUSTERED OUT

The War Department has ordered the Sixth and Eighth regiments of California Volunteers mustered out of the service. Thus we come steadily down to the peace footing everywhere.

THE SABBATARIANS

Are agin moving in the matter of suppressing the Sunday papers. These crazy hypocrites have not yet discovered what is apparent enough to any intellectual mind, that it is the work of the Monday morning papers which is done on the Sabbath. A meeting is to be held to-night to advance their cause. Public sentiment will hardly sustain them, for news is as much if not more sought for on Sundays as any other day in the week.

A HEAVY VERDICT

Has been received by the State of Pennsylvania against the city of Philadelphia, no less than $410,226, for taxes due and unpaid by the former.

THE STATE ELECTION

In New Jersey shows some curious facts. The large vote, 132,000, is one, and the fact that Gen Runyon received more votes than Gen Parker, though the latter was elected by 15,000 majority, is another. In a full vote it proves that New Jersey is sound for the Union.

DEATH OF A HERO

William Conway, the brave sailor who refused to haul down the American flag at Pensacola when ordered to do so by his superior officer on the 12th of January, 1861, died to day. The funeral on Saturday will be attended by Admiral Paulding, Captain Pennock and various other eminent naval officers and the Marine Guard and a large deputation of the Order of Odd Fellows.

THE NAVY YARD

Twenty five hundred workmen were discharged at the Navy Yard yesterday. Business is very slack there.

A "NOBLE" SCAMP

George Thomas, son of Sir William Thomas, Baronet of England, has been arrested for forging bills of credit from Stillwell & Co., London, on Duncan, Sherman & Co. of this city. It appears he is a prodigal son with whom his family refuse to have any intercourse.

A DEFAULTER

On a minor scale has again turned up. A clerk in a prominent English banking house is in jail, charged with appropriating $20,000 in securities placed in his charge and spending them "in wine and women." The embezzlements had been in progress over a year when they were first discovered.

DEATH OF VAN AMBURGH

The great lion tamer Van Amburgh died suddenly yesterday in Philadelphia, aged about 55 years.

THE CALIFORNIA STEAMER,

Of the 21st of December from this port, will be the magnificent New York. She takes the place of the Baltic. The equally splendid Henry Chauncey sails to-morrow for Aspinwall.

WILCOX & GIBBS SEWING MACHINE.
We would call attention to the following facts in connection with this Machine, which renders it superior to any other in use:
It forms a flat elastic seam which will not rip in wear;
It is entirely noiseless;
A patented device prevents its being turned backwards;
The needle cannot be set wrong;
Can be used successfully without other instruction than accompany the Machine;
It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute in 1863.

Political Leaders.

Political combination is necessary to ensure political success. The united efforts of an insignificant faction or a petty cabal, will often triumph over the desultory opposition of a whole people. The confederation of faithless politicians and their partisans renders it absolutely necessary for all who have an interest in defeating their aims to combine. A man cannot put himself in a situation to do his duty with effect, without associating with others. He who acts a [illegible] part and will not unite his efforts with those of his fellow men, preferring to stand aloof from every party because he fully agrees with none, takes special care to act in such a manner that his endeavors could not possibly be productive of any consequence. Ambitious citizens—men of deep policy and of subtle designs—will often be found leagued together for the accomplishment of secret and bad purposes, and it is only by unity of action among others that they can be foiled. It is not uncommonly the case that a small faction, whose members have a clear perception of the selfish policy they resolved to pursue, is able to defeat the will of their opponents though ten times as numerous as they. The only way to meet a faction is to combine against it. Virtue [that is impracticable is spurious], and they who will not put themselves in a position to accomplish the object they have in view, are as derelict and culpable as though they had actually betrayed the trust that is given them.

As political parties are a necessity, so are political leaders. Without leaders a party cannot exist. It is in the nature of things that there should be some who may be relied on as guides. These should be men of wisdom, firmness and probity, selected, not on account of their high skill in the arts of political deception, but because of their open honesty, positive candor and real talents. While they should not ignore public opinion nor treat the wishes or prejudices of those they represent with contempt, they should endeavor to correct popular faults instead of trying to fasten them still more firmly in the minds of the people in the hope thereby to aggrandize themselves. In one of his speeches, Burke defines the duties of a representative and a leader. He had displeased some of his constituents by his course in relation to the American war, and in reply to their complaints he said: "A representative worthy of you ought to be a person of stability. I am to look indeed to your opinions, but to such opinions as you and I must have five years hence. I was not to look to the flash of the day. I knew that you chose me in my place, along with others, to be a pillar of the state, and not a weathercock on the top of the edifice, exalted for my levity and versatility, and of no use but to indicate the shiftings of every fashionable gale." To-day, as heretofore, we need leaders who can stand at the head of the people and who are qualified to guide public sentiment, not those who are capable only to follow, of whose ambition it is to propagate political errors, whenever by such a course they see that it is likely to result advantageously to themselves.

Some of our public men have no positive opinions. They will not pledge themselves unqualifiedly to this policy or that, fearing lest the sequel may prove their action unpopular. Their minds seem to be at an equipoise, and, when they do move a very little, they are fully as apt to go wrong as otherwise. [illegible] but very expressive term, "the people never know where to find them." The radical cause of this want of positiveness is found in the differences which once existed between the institutions of the North and South. Men devised to show that they were firm [illegible] of both sections, while distinctly in favor of neither. In this habit politicians had long been trained, and they are not yet able to discontinue and discredit [illegible].

Political power in the North has been gradually slipping from the hands of this wavering class until they now find that the people will rarely trust them. Few of them can get places in Congress and in no instance has one of them lately been chosen to an office by the suffrages of the people of a whole State. The people want none of them. Men of definitive principles and of positive views, are sought as leaders. As it is in every other Northern State, so it is with Oregon. The loyal people of this State want those to whom they will shortly entrust the management of affairs for a term of years, to fully represent them and their principles. Against our State officers, Unionists have had no cause of complaint during these four years. But it is not altogether so with some who have represented, or misrepresented us in Congress. It has been our misfortune that a part only of our delegation has stood unequivocally for the Government during the crisis just passed. During the last four years three men from Oregon have sat in the United States Senate professing to represent the people of this State when in point of fact they would have been fitter to sit as Senators from Kentucky or Delaware, than from this or any other loyal Commonwealth. One of these not long since gave place to a better man; another, and happily the last of the trio, is approaching the close of his term. This person, certain parties who live by the patronage and largesses he dispenses, are now preparing to re-elect. Their movements are apparent, they cannot conceal their designs. But the people will be on their guard against them. No one who has made the record which this Senator has written during the long term of six years, will be returned to Washington by the deliberate suffrages of the loyal people of Oregon. If he shall be re-elected at all it will be done by the intrigue of a faction composed of half hearted Unionists and "conservative Democrats." In such an event the people will be cheated. They want a Senator who is in sympathy with Northern feeling and who is an advocate of national ideas. They want a man of positive and ascertainable principles, not one who is so vacillating as to have no political reliability. The person on whom they confer Senatorial honors must be a man of sufficient stability to stand for the Union and freedom, instead of pronouncing against both in Congress and at the next Presidential election.

Therefore, let Union men be on their guard against these subtle intriguers. Wherever they appear combine against them. Let us have as our political leaders and our representative for Congress those only whose sentiments are in unison with the advanced growth of liberal and enlightened opinion in all the Northern States.

The Richmond Enquirer says that Secretary Stanton is very unpopular at the South, and his removal from the cabinet would be a source of great pleasure in that section of the country. We know of no substantial reason for doubting this statement. The same parties would be pleased if Jeff Davis was appointed in his place. Just the reason why he is popular with us.

SAN FRANCISCO.—According to Langley's Directory the population of San Francisco is 119 000.

St. Paul Minnesota, has a population of 14 012, a gain of 1 100 since 1860.

[illegible] What [illegible] to guarantee [illegible] the guarantee be made effectual. July, Redfield, a distinguished Democrat, formerly Chief Justice of Vermont, a lawyer who has scarcely a superior in New England, says the New York Times, thus forcibly and pregnantly answers the question, maintaining that the freedmen [illegible] and necessarily a part [illegible] of the Constitution [illegible] says:

"The accession [illegible] population [illegible] the ordinary process of growth or accretion, but [illegible] And as it is clearly entitled to be represented in some form in the creation of the organic law of the State, and as it clearly is not so represented [illegible] the several States [illegible] in consequence that the States shall [illegible] Constitutions giving all the native and natural [illegible] This [illegible] Constitution [illegible] delegates chosen by the vote of the whole people. This the national authority may clearly demand as the very least which will produce a republican form of government, and which they will feel entitled to regard as fully coming within the view of the requirements of the National Constitution."

NEGRO INSURRECTION STORIES.—The Charleston Despatch thus disposes of the reports of a negro insurrection in South Carolina:

Brevet Brigadier General Charles C. Beecher, commanding the Second Sub District of South Carolina, writing from Greenville (S. C.) to the News of this city, emphatically denies that there is any truth in the reports of negro outrages or attempts at insurrection in Barnwell district. The report grew out of the killing of a ruffian named McKew, a planter of Bamberg, it is supposed, by a negro boy whom McKew had whipped and cut with a knife.

General Beecher very plainly informs the people that as long as they insist on practicing the old arts of their former barbarism, such as tying up and whipping women to make them confess imaginary crimes, waylaying and firing on negroes, etc., that they may naturally expect that lone white men will occasionally be murdered in the woods and that barns and outhouses will be burned. He also intimates that such a retribution would not only be natural on the part of the negroes but just to the whites who persist in continuing such infamies.

The publication of this card has raised a great hue and cry here, and men who actually pass in daily intercourse for men of sense and honor, and just so, declare, with all the solemnity of a parson and fury of a fire-eater, that this "notorious wretch is actually counseling the negroes to burn, steal and kill," when really he is only advising the people to give them no cause to do so. [illegible] any evil effects of this sort of "blackguarding."

RECONSTRUCTION.—The New York Tribune of December 2d remarks that the work of reconstruction in the South is not the work of the people but of political leaders. Reconstruction there is in fact the work of seedy politicians who are anxious to get the offices with their emoluments and the power they confer. The Tribune says:

Congress will not omit to notice that the people of the Southern States have thus far utterly no voice in favor of accepting the terms of reconstruction proposed by the President. The convention would not, or dared not, submit their work to a popular vote. It was considered so certain that the popular voice was against even the easy conditions required of Mississippi that Governor Sharkey threatened to disperse his convention with negro troops if they ventured to give the State at large a chance to express its opinions. And now we find the Georgia convention exhibiting the same distrust, though it is difficult to imagine what the bitterest rebel could object to in the work of that body. The little game to be played is evident enough. One member, a so called Union man, openly advocated the repudiation of the war debt by the convention and its assumption by another convention called as soon as the State representatives shall have been admitted into Congress.

Unless therefore we are willing to see every rebel State repudiate the acts of its convention, Congress must require inexorably that the people of every State shall ratify the work of the conventions which Congress will hereafter authorize.

THE MARTYRED PRESIDENT.—The last number of the London Spectator remarks as follows in a long review of President Lincoln's life and services:

"To our minds no funeral oration ever exceeded in pathos that spoken by the President in dedicating as a national cemetery part of the battle field of Gettysburg. Nor can the message in which, before the issue of the emancipation proclamation, he entreated the border States to sacrifice slavery not at their own expense, but at the expense of the nation, be easily surpassed in the depth and earnestness of its entreaty."

And again, speaking of his religious character, it says:

"Perhaps Mr. Lincoln's religious faith and simplicity are the only traits which still remain unappropriated by the American people at large. For ourselves, we cannot read his last inaugural address, delivered only five weeks before his assassination, without a renewed conviction that it is the noblest political document known to history, and should have for the nation the statesman he left behind him something of a sacred and almost prophetic authority. Surely none was ever written under a stronger sense of the reality of God's government, and certainly none written in a period of passionate conflict ever so completely excluded the partiality of victorious faction and breathed so pure a strain of mingled mercy and justice."

THE SANITARY COMMISSION.—The Sanitary Commission has published an account of its works, from which it appears that the amount of money received from June 21 1861 to July 1 1865, at which time the active business of the organization ceased, was four millions eight hundred and twelve thousand nine hundred and seventy five dollars and sixty nine cents. The disbursements of the Commission during the same period amounted to four million five hundred and thirty thousand dollars. Oregon is credited with a donation of $78 182 26. California with $1 219 112 51. The published table shows receipts of money for the cause from nearly all parts of the world. The Commission has it in view to publish a complete history of its work. The archives of the organization are to be collected at New York and will be preserved. All the branches of the Commission are requested to transmit an account of their work to the central office or bureau. These records will be kept as a memorial of the Commission and will forever remain an object of national interest.

IDAHO.—The Idaho Statesman of December 8th has the following:

Wilson Waddingham gave us a call yesterday, just from Rocky Bar. He brought along with him the evidences of the success of the Waddingham company in the shape of $9 200 worth of bullion, the result of three days run. The average yield was about [illegible] The mill is going ahead with the mines to [illegible] furnish rock enough to keep it running all winter. The other mills are doing well. Several other items we have no room for to-day.

We were shown a letter from Idaho City yesterday to a citizen of this place stating that a rich strike had been made in the shaft of the [illegible] of [illegible] about two [illegible] from [illegible] results from $109 to $110 per ton [illegible] The shaft is down seventy feet in depth, the ledge is [illegible] feet wide between casings, dipping into the [illegible] widening and growing richer every foot the work progresses.

A GOOD HIT.—The Elevator, the organ of the colored people of California, has no [illegible] contests with the Copperheads. Speaking of the introduction of a bill into the California Legislature to prevent negroes from coming into that State, the Elevator says that Long, the author of the proposition, is one of the breed who fears negro equality. He cannot view a colored man in no other light than as a slave or his superior. We don't know but Copperheads after reading the Elevator for a season and observing the ability it displays, may have good reason to be ashamed of their own intellectual inferiority, and to fear that the negro race now redeemed from slavery will soon get above them in all things.

More than half of this sum was used while the war was progressing in the purchase of wines and jellies for the benefit of prisoners and hospitals.

NEW YORK, Jan 2.—John T. Hoffman was yesterday formally inaugurated Mayor of New York. In his inaugural he argues that the city government should be free from control by the Legislature. The funded debt of the city is forty one millions, of which commissioners of the sinking fund hold nine and a half millions. The debt is amply secured by the entire property of the city. The tax levy of the year is over eighteen millions, of which three millions are for State purposes, four millions seven hundred and fifty thousand for police and other county purposes expended by the commissioners appointed by the Legislature. The tax levy next year is expected to be at least three millions less.

Report of the Controller of New York.

NEW YORK, Jan 2.—Comptroller Robinson in his annual report states that notwithstanding the heavy drain upon the Treasury its affairs have moved on smoothly and in perfect order. He says but for the large bounty loan, made during the last year, the State within a very few years would have been entirely free from debt. Certificates of that loan to the 10th of December 1865 were twenty five and a half millions, making the total debt of the State fifty one millions. The Comptroller is of opinion that the tax of one mill on the dollar should be sufficient for the expenses of the State government, although he does not venture to place it at that figure.

Ohio Legislature.

CHICAGO, Jan 2.—The Ohio Legislature was organized yesterday. A Parrot was chosen speaker. In the Senate joint resolutions were adopted providing for an amendment of the State Constitution by omitting the word "white," in stating the qualifications of electors.

Gov. Fenton's Message.

BUFFALO, Jan 2.—Gov. Fenton's message is published this afternoon. It advocates that maimed and disabled soldiers be cared for and their pensions increased.

The present national guard consists of 112 regiments, 3 independent battalions and 4 regular battalions. The aggregate force of officers and men uniformed and equipped amounts to 18,000. It advocates a general encampment of the national guard during the coming season. It says:

The report of the Superintendent of Banking shows that on the 30th of September, 1865, there were 109 banks conducting business under the laws of the State with an aggregate capital of twenty and a half millions. One hundred and ninety three banks have retracted from the old system and been converted into national banks. The total amount of outstanding circulation including that of closed and closing banks, is twenty seven millions of dollars. The message concludes as follows: "In the work of restoring the revolted States to their appropriate Federal relations great questions still remain for solution which we cannot ignore—obligations which honor and good faith impose on the Government towards all who have been faithful in its behalf. I entertain the confident hope that enlightened statesmen will solve those difficult problems in a spirit at once humane and generous. The magnanimity and first principles of the Government will commend themselves to the approval of all friends of the Government and secure the public safety. Toward our misguided countrymen we should entertain no feeling of bitterness or unkindness, and animated by generous forbearance we should cordially co operate in our respective spheres of influence in supporting the general interests of all those entitled to invoke our protection. With firm adherence to the first rights of all in a spirit of kindness all traces of alienation will gradually and forever disappear."

From Texas.

NEW YORK, Jan 2.—The steamer Wilmington, from Galveston, with papers to the 24th ult. Governor Hamilton issued a proclamation restoring as far as he has power, to their full civil rights all persons recommended for special order.

Freedmen's Celebration—North Carolina "Reconstructed."

WILMINGTON, N C, Jan 1.—The celebration by the negroes to-day passed off with perfect order and propriety. A large delegation was present from the surrounding counties. All the civil officers in the State appointed by the Provisional government, including ministers, commissioners, judges and all others comprising the whole machinery of government, ceased to exercise any authority, their terms of office having come to an end by the Provisional Governor having given up his office. All power now temporarily rests in the Military Governor, who is taking steps to have a legislative remedy for the difficulty; meanwhile its military authority will probably direct officers heretofore acting for the State to continue to exercise their functions.

Wreck Near Galveston.

GALVESTON, Jan 2.—The new bark Scott, from Richmond, Maine, was driven ashore on the 20th ult, 12 miles west of Galveston. Capt. N. A. Hussey, wife and daughter were rescued after twelve hours exposure in a boat. The ship is nearly a total loss. The mate and crew have not been heard from, but are probably safe.

Wool Growers' Convention.

CINCINNATI, Jan 3.—The Wool Growers' Association assembled at Columbus yesterday. Resolutions were adopted approving of the policy of terminating the reciprocity treaty between the United States and Canada. The wool growers' interests controlled to a degree by legislative protection are equal to that accorded to the manufacturing interests; that the interest of the country requires an extension of the culture of worsted wool; that a commission of the National Manufacturers' Association be appointed to meet the United States Revenue Commission, and are advised to recommend that a tax be levied on dogs sufficient to raise a revenue for Government or diminish the number of dogs or both.

New Hampshire Politics.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan 3.—The Republican State Convention met in this city to-day. Frederick Smyth was unanimously nominated by acclamation for Governor.

Massachusetts Legislature.

BOSTON, Jan 3.—The Massachusetts Legislature met to-day. The House elected James A. Stone of Charlestown Speaker. The Senate elected Joseph A. Smith, President, by a unanimous vote.

Maine Legislature.

The Legislature met and organized to-day by choice of the following officers: Wm. Winthrop, of [illegible] President of Senate; James M. Stone, of Kennebunk, Speaker of the House. Gov. Cony will be inaugurated to-morrow.

New York Affairs.

ALBANY, Jan 3.—The Senate to-day confirmed the nomination of George W. Schuyler [illegible] Superintendent [illegible] Bank Department [illegible]

NEW YORK, Jan 3.—The Treasurer's statement shows a decrease in debt exhibit [illegible] six [illegible] 118 [illegible] total debt bearing interest $1 [illegible] [illegible] 550 [illegible] interest $459 [illegible] grand total [illegible] [illegible] in the Treasury $80 [illegible] 881 [illegible] of debt less cash in Treasury $2 716 [illegible]

National Abolition of Slavery—Proclamation of the Secretary of State.

The following is the proclamation of Secretary Seward declaring the abolishment of slavery:

To all to whom these presents shall come, Greeting: Know ye, that whereas the Congress of the United States on the first day of February last passed a resolution which is in the words following, namely:

ARTICLE XIII

SECTION 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SECTION 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

And whereas, it appears from the official documents on file in this Department that the Amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed as aforesaid has been ratified by the Legislature of the States of Illinois, Rhode Island, Michigan, Maryland, New York, West Virginia, Maine, Kansas, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Ohio, Missouri, Nevada, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Vermont, Tennessee, Arkansas, Connecticut, New Hampshire, South Carolina, Alabama, North Carolina and Georgia, in all twenty seven States, and whereas the whole number of States in the United States is 36, and whereas the before specially named States whose Legislatures have ratified the said proposed amendment constitute three fourths of the whole number of States in the United States, now therefore, be it known that I, Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State of the United States, by virtue of and in pursuance of the second section of the Act of Congress approved 20th of April, 1818, entitled an "Act to provide for the publication of the laws of the United States and for other purposes," do hereby certify that the amendment has become valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the United States.

In testimony whereof, etc.

W. H. SEWARD, Secretary of State.

Steam Tug Explodes in New York Harbor.

NEW YORK, Jan 3.—The steam tug Neptune exploded her boiler in the bay to-day, eight persons being wounded. The captain's son only escaped injury. The wounded men were placed on board the tug Resolute to be taken to the city while she burst some part of her machinery. No one hurt.

Captain Campbell, of the steamer Baltic, was lost overboard in a gale on passage here from Glasgow.

Wisconsin Affairs.

MADISON, Wis, Jan 3.—This evening the new State officers were sworn into office.

Gov. Fairchilds, in his inaugural, says: "Not until Jeff Davis shall have been tried, convicted, and hung for treason, and the fact that treason is a crime which cannot be committed with impunity shall have been fairly demonstrated, will the American people be content. The American people demonstrated that the Union is one and undividable—that its people, of whatever race and color, shall be free forever."

The Fenian Congress.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The Fenian Congress organized to-day. Patrick Corbett of Syracuse was elected permanent Chairman and Mr. Quinn of Illinois Secretary. About 400 delegates were present, 75 of whom are from the District of Manhattan, embracing this city, Brooklyn and Queen's County. The members from Manhattan received all rights to any position in organization. Speeches by Corbett and others all ask for a thorough investigation of troubles between O'Mahoney and the Senate. It is about certain, says the Post, that the Congress will favor O'Mahoney. It will close its business this week, but it is doubtful whether the persons decided against will abide the decision.

Suit Against Secretary Stanton.

NEW YORK, Jan 3.—A suit was commenced in the Supreme Court to-day against Secretary Stanton by James H. Maddox for alleged false imprisonment. Plaintiff having been a purchaser in Richmond under permission from President Lincoln and the Secretary of the Treasury of large quantities of tobacco which was destroyed by our forces in Fredericksburg in 1861 and having been kept in the Old Capitol prison since President Johnson came into office, claims $100 000 damages. Defendant claims that plaintiff is guilty of a violating the articles of war by treating with the enemy; that the arrest was not made by his order but by the Provost Marshal, and that plaintiff is still on parole in the sum of $5,000 to await his trial on such charges.

Fire at Yonkers, New York.

YONKERS, Jan 3.—The four story building in the centre of the business portion of the town, owned by Wm. Radford, was entirely destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $50,000. Insured for $16,000. A large brick house on William street, Hoboken, was destroyed by fire to-day. Two children were burned to death.

Massachusetts Finances.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—Gov. Andrew, in a special message to the Legislature states that the total expenditures incurred by Massachusetts on account of the war, amounts to $2 770,618. The expenses incurred by cities and towns for bounties and other necessary purposes, amount to nearly an equal sum.

From the South.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan 2.—The President of the Southern Pacific Railroad issued a notice requiring that all applications for re-organization of stock must be made in March, all taxes by the 1st of April or before, to be collected.

The restrictions under which the Episcopal clergy have been laboring in Alabama, are formally withdrawn.

Some commotion was created a few nights ago in the Mobile theatre by some person hissing Yankee Doodle, while soldiers were applauding. Nothing serious occurred. The tune has been ordered played by the military commanders.

"If I lose the blade of my knife," asked a college student of the Professor of Logic, "and get a new blade put into it, is it still the same knife?" "Certainly," replied the Professor. "If I then lose the handle," queried the student, "and get a new one fitted to the blade, is it still the same knife?" "Unquestionably," replied the Professor, "the same knife." "If somebody finds the old blade and old handle," continued the student, "and puts them together, what knife is that?" The reply to his interrogatory has not been recorded.

FROM THE MOUNTAINS.—Mr. A. B. Woodard, who it will be recollected, left this city last spring for the purpose of sketching in photographic form, points in the upper country, has returned with his portfolio replete with elegant views from the head of Salmon river [illegible] the [illegible] portion of Idaho. Mr. Hurd, who accompanied him, remained to take views of the magnificent falls of Snake river, which are far more grand than the famous Niagara. These views form [illegible] the [illegible] probably [illegible] in the country. Mr. [illegible] has left [illegible] copies. In looking at the truly magnificent [illegible] South Boise of the New York and Idaho Gold and Silver Mining Company, which are closed now by attachment of the creditors, we could but ask why is this so? There are splendid mill, shops, office, boarding house, [illegible] as fine condition as anything in the world [illegible] be asked, and yet the machinery is tied up with [illegible] We were told by Mr. Woodard that the [illegible] ledges were well opened for this mill to crush [illegible] but that the acts of agents sent here to operate [illegible] Superintendent, Dr. S. B. Farnham, were contrary [illegible] of the company, and instead of [illegible] they acted against him, hence all this trouble. [illegible] agents are in San Francisco. Dr. Farnham [illegible] Why they do not go there and assist him [illegible] out the objects of the company is possibly [illegible] We remember with the energy which Dr. Farnham went to work to send this [illegible] to South Boise a year ago, and regret that he is [illegible] to run the machinery, now that it is in [illegible] order, as the wealth of the rock it would [illegible] be disputed, and dividends would be as certain [illegible] Rocky Bar is decidedly a [illegible] place, as rich in picturesqueness, as in gold [illegible] a canyon, apparently large hills [illegible] side of it, with a single street, on which are built the houses. It is our opinion, that she ought to remain where she is, but in [illegible] that we are liable to be mistaken [illegible] prove to the contrary!

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—Kelly is making an excellent [illegible] to the citizens of Oregon City [illegible] like him [illegible] are pleased to hear [illegible] The broken shaft [illegible] was successfully welded at the [illegible] Foundry, by Mr. McWilliams, and it was a [illegible]—for heavy work it would be hard to [illegible] new woolen mill is becoming more and more [illegible] every day, and will shortly have all [illegible] its manufactures on the market. [illegible] D'ALENE.—But a short time ago there was a [illegible] loose miners, and those disposed to be [illegible] in the direction of Coeur d'Alene. The sequel [illegible] many were disappointed, and we have [illegible] the word or seldom, of [illegible] Montana, that the second letter is put [illegible] But Coeur d'Alene yet promises to [illegible] Quartz is now the word in Coeur d'Alene [illegible] and it is asserted that some months since valuable [illegible] there discovered, averaging about $160 to [illegible] ton. One the Mammoth lodge, is said to yield [illegible] which the gold is plainly [illegible] and in [illegible] in a common way, returns about $1,000 a ton of fine gold. There is no use talking [illegible] the whole [illegible] the banks of the Columbia is gold and silver, and let a man turn his hand to anything [illegible] sure to win.

[illegible] HOG-[illegible].—In the early days of Boise the camp [illegible] of Pioneer was christened Hog-em. The past [illegible] have been discovered there and the [illegible] the companies doing efficient work in that [illegible] to give permanency to the place. A new ditch is [illegible] to furnish water for the hills about [illegible] Apple Jack and other gulches, and the present will [illegible] prosperous year at Hog-em. Mr. Harrington [illegible] in the city from there, reports favorable prospects [illegible] the district. Several of our former townsmen are in [illegible] at Pioneer, among whom we are pleased to learn [illegible] mentioned Mr. W. W. Chapman, Jr., who is largely [illegible] in the Elkhorn company, and we hope to see [illegible] returns from them.

[illegible] SNAGS.—Recently Capt. Kern, of the steamer [illegible] encountered a large snag at the mouth of the Willamette, which it was thought would be of a [illegible] character. Since then the steamship [illegible] has passed the place, and the bark [illegible] has [illegible] alongside of the steamer John H. Couch [illegible] pilots [illegible] Capt. Kern was in error, having run upon a [illegible] of the channel, or else the [illegible] first spoken [illegible] floated away, for there is now no obstruction to [illegible] steamer, in this river.

[illegible]—We learn by the steamer John H. Couch arrived from Astoria yesterday that the Columbia [illegible] well filled with floating ice, but not calculated [illegible] navigation. The steamer Fannie Troup made [illegible] trips to Vancouver, on Saturday and will leave [illegible] in her regular business. The weather here was [illegible] yesterday and all the steamers will to-day [illegible] as usual except the Cascade.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT.—DEADY J.—Friday, Jan. [illegible] Holler et al. vs. Hans et al.—judgment for [illegible] upon the answer for $1381. Held upon demurrer [illegible] that in an action upon a balance of an account [illegible] the plaintiff could not recover interest [illegible] for the [illegible] California, the place where the account was made, [illegible] It was alleged that there was an accounting between the parties and the balance struck. [illegible] was admitted to citizenship. Court adjourned until Tuesday next.

[illegible] PAPERS.—We are requested by Mr. [illegible] who took his coat [illegible] wharf about noon on last Thursday [illegible] in the pockets are returned to the [illegible] will be asked, and the [illegible] will be all well to [illegible] The papers [illegible] and be [illegible] to [illegible] them to the wise is sufficient.

[illegible]—As will be seen by notice [illegible] of the First street [illegible] was passed [illegible] evening by the Common Council. It is the [illegible] First street is improved it be [illegible] the people there are interesting themselves in [illegible] pavement.

[illegible]—One of the buoys placed on the edge of the [illegible] Swan Island by Mr. Moulton lately was [illegible] by the steamer Fannie Troup on Saturday [illegible] was the means of smashing four or five buckets [illegible] wheel. The damages were repaired yesterday.

[illegible] OF THE STEAMER.—The line was working last [illegible] further than Trinity Center, and we there [illegible] no information about the sailing of the [illegible]

A SOUTHERN GOVERNOR PROMISING TOO MUCH.—The leading points in the message of Governor Parsons to the Alabama Legislature, which appeared in yesterday's [illegible] contains [illegible] significant announcement. The Governor urges the adoption of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States abolishing slavery, and the passage of laws protecting the persons and property of negroes. This, he says, will secure the admission of our representatives in Congress and restore the State [illegible] rights in the Union [illegible] Governor Parsons [illegible] time [illegible] of the President and the friendly relations between them doubtless had a strong influence in placing the former in his present position. Only two or three weeks ago the Governor came Northward to Washington, where he had repeated interviews with the President, and in the [illegible] which he doubtless learned what the President requires of the reclaimed states as a requisite for their full restoration of rights and privileges within the Union. The announcement which Governor Parsons makes in the above quotations is evidently the result of views expressed by the President, and he makes the statement positively, as if he were fully authorized to do so. But the Governor promises a little too much when he assures the Legislature that the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment and the protection of the freedmen will secure the admission of the Alabama delegation in Congress. It may be, and probably is, the wish of the President that such delegates should be admitted but the President has no more power in the premises than Governor Parsons, except so far as Congress may feel inclined to consider his recommendations. There seems to be a very general misconception in the South upon this point. We have noticed that nearly all the Southern journals in discussing the question of restoration jump to the conclusion that the President will not permit the exclusion of members from the reclaimed States. But Governor Parsons, and all others, who take this ground, are only misleading the people and doing injury to their interests by advancing the idea that Union antecedents are not essential in their representatives. The test oath is a Congressional measure and neither the President nor any other power except Congress, can abrogate it, unless it should be declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. The President may, in the forthcoming message, recommend the repeal or modification of the said restriction, but further than that he can do nothing.—New York Sun, November 25th.

DEMOCRATIC ELOQUENCE.—The following example of highfalutin comes from the Idaho World—the like could not be found in any other world though it is only an exaggeration of the Democratic style. It refers, says the Flag, to a small fry lawyer who came near starving to death in Yreka, and who was of late defending a copperhead murderer in Idaho. Hear:

"[illegible] rode upon the field for the final charge in the chariot of war. Opening his case with a peroration of remarkable beauty he turned with a burning sarcasm on the recoiling enemy, surrounded them in groups, and with the merciless compulsion of retributive avenging power, lashed them naked through the world. The cowardly and malicious press which has poured its stream of falsehood into the public ear, the hounds of an ignorant and excited population, with a 'halter in their hand, murder in their hearts and prayer on their lips,' the tergiversations of squirming witnesses, confounded by their own folly, were one after another scorched and extinguished in the course of that fiery circle."

A newspaper correspondent, who has had access to some parts of General Lee's forthcoming "History of the Southern Struggle," writes as follows:

"Lee ascribes the defeat of the Confederacy to the want of harmony among the leading men, and the fatal blunders of the chief executive of the would-be nation. He declares the Southern people now believe as sincerely as the Northern that slavery was a political evil, but he intimates that the State-rights doctrine is immortal, and will in future be the governing principle of the Republic. Several chapters, I learn, are dedicated to the defense of the South against the charges of barbarism and cruelty, as revealed in its treatment to Union prisoners. The author endeavors to [illegible] that the treatment of Northern captives was not at all as it has been represented and that for the inhumanities practiced upon them the prison-keepers, not the Richmond authorities, were responsible."

NEW MATERIAL FOR MATTRESSES.—The Stockton Independent gives an account of a new article which will probably constitute an item in the world of commerce:

Yesterday, nineteen large bales of the rough mossy covering of the soap plant root, or bulb, arrived from Salt Spring Valley, and were shipped to San Francisco in the sloop W. R. Allen. This material has been tried, it is said, and found to answer a very good purpose for mattresses. When thoroughly cleaned and prepared, it is esteemed superior to pulu, inasmuch as it does not form into hard lumps but remains soft and yielding while in use.

The ex rebels who have been preparing to emigrate to Brazil, for the sake of again enjoying the delights of the institution of slavery, have lately met with a very discouraging "back set." A journal which warmly sympathizes with them, has just learned that the Cabinet, of Ministry of Brazil "is chiefly composed of negroes."

A LONG [illegible].—At an interview between General Fisk and the President lately the latter stated that he would do full justice to the freedmen, and that he would suspend the Freedmen's Bureau when the Southern people should treat the negro with justice and fairness.

APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED.—The Senate in Executive Session on the 21st of December confirmed the nomination of Edwin Marsh as Register of the Land Office at Olympia, Washington Territory.

DON'T BELIEVE THEM.—If any one tell you that they know a better remedy for coughs and colds than the genuine Hall's Pulmonary Balsam, don't believe it. There is no better remedy, as any one who has ever used it can testify.

"A SLIGHT COLD," COUGHS.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a cough or "slight cold" in its first stage. That which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. "The Troches" have proved their efficacy by a test of many years, and have received testimonials from eminent men who have used them.

General Office, 171 Broadway, New York and 16 Court Street, Brooklyn.

FRANKLIN SAID NEAR A CENTURY AGO: "MY object is to call attention to the fact, that a Policy of Life Insurance is the best and safest Provision that a man can make for his family." All experience proves THAT THIS IS A FACT.

THE HOME is conducted on the mutual plan, in the best sense of the word. It divides the profits ANNUALLY, and applies the same immediately to pay the amount due on the annual premium.

THE HOME has an ample Cash Capital, securely invested under the laws of the State of New York for the protection of Policy Holders and has a Board of Directors of unimpeachable character, all of whom are Stock-Holders in the Company.

It offers a permanent loan to the assured of one-half of the annual premium, which loan is paid by the annual dividends, or deducted from the amount due under the Policy.

TO J. B.

ON THE PUBLICATION OF HIS APOLOGY FOR TREASON

"Oh that mine enemy had written a Book"

You've written a book, and the world rejoices
To see you prove, though your logic is bad,
The truth of the adage which fate still voices—
Whom God would destroy he first makes mad

You speak of the fearful men and things
That rode on the storms of your life's dark winter
With a venom and slimy craft that brings
Small profit to any one save your printer

Your book like the whining Message you sent
To Congress when Southern secession was rife
Shows to what baseness a soul may be bent
When it shrinks from the duties that dignify life

You talked of the Union, as if you would save
While your acts proved a wish but to see it destroyed,
You babbled of Freedom and Virtue and gave
All glory to Davis and honor to Floyd

You said it was wrong for a State to go out
Of the Union and wrong too, to keep her in;
Secession you said was a crime beyond doubt
Coercion as great if not greater a sin

You said for the Union all should join,
But to "let it slide" the South might choose
That loyal faith was a law divine
But traitors might justly such faith refuse

To serve the State was a glorious task,
You said, but to crush it were just as well,
And 'twere quite as pious to point or ask
The way to Heaven or road to hell!

Had you been honest and brave of heart
Then, when our heavens were dark and dun,
You might have played all a patriot's part,
And shared the fame of a Washington

But slave to the slaves of power and lust,
You bartered this pure and precious crown,
For hopes that have withered and turned to dust
And remorse that not Lethe's stream can drown

Your book and your life are now all Time's,
And men will wonder as both still tell
How one bowed down with the worst of crimes
Could act so badly and write so well!

Think not your worshippers, now so few
Will draw from the fountain that you've supplied
Those draughts of logic that cheat the due
Of justice that you've so long defied

No! you shall answer a mourning Nation,
An angry God and the frowning skies,
For years of carnage and desolation
Fed by your plausible, craven lies

Answer you must at the Judgment Seat,
For crimes like yours 'twere a crime to spare
And curses, for trust betrayed, shall greet
Your cringing soul as it crouches there.

AN ACTRESS AND HER ADMIRER.—One of the most beautiful actresses of the Boulevards, Paris received daily, for about a month, a little penny bouquet of violets. She found the bouquet in the box or with the doorkeeper every evening as the play was about to begin, and this simple offering of an unknown love affected her in spite of herself. While acting she looked carefully around—at the boxes, parquet, and even behind the scenes,—but to no purpose, she saw nothing by which to recognize the man of bouquets. And thereupon she gave her imagination free reign and the imagination of an actress is very similar to that of other folks. Was he a foreign prince who wished to captivate her heart before placing at her feet his crown and treasures? Or was he an artist too bashful to declare his passion? She interrogated the boxkeeper, the tire-women—in short, everybody employed in the theater, but nobody knew anything about it. Still the bouquets came.

"Do they tell us that constancy is a chimera!" murmured she.

The other evening, as she entered the theater about [illegible] a [illegible] bouquet of violets, and this time the flowers were accompanied by a letter "At last!" said she and opening it by the light of a reflector, she read as follows.

"Madam,—[illegible] loved you for a long time. [illegible] loving you [illegible] day [illegible] to admire you, [illegible] with the brightness of your eyes, and the [illegible] of your voice—"

"He must be in the house," thought the actress, and she peeped through a hole in the curtain. The audience had just begun to assemble [illegible]

"[illegible] your voice. You are indeed beautiful and [illegible] they who may approach you. What would I not give to be near you always? Would the [illegible] of the world be worth one of your smiles? No!"

"Ah, that is nice!" she sighed, and turning the page, she continued:

"No! And yet I dare to love you—to tell you that I love you still more. I venture to beg you not to reject my homage—"

"[illegible]" said she to [illegible] as she continued [illegible] "If this expression of my love does not offend you, [illegible] this bouquet of flowers in your bosom. Oh! then, I shall be the happiest of men!"

"Well," said she, "no signature, no name given; but let us see. Here is a postscript"

"If you are curious to know who writes to you, look up to the fourth tier, my love will hang [illegible]"

The note dropped from the hands of the actress [illegible] arms nearly dropped from her shoulders."

[illegible] ON MEXICAN AFFAIRS.—[illegible] the following observations [illegible] text of Max[illegible] inasmuch [illegible] now expired [illegible] pretense for any [illegible] his partisans, [illegible] shall be taken [illegible] that Maximilian [illegible] the [illegible] regularity [illegible] Presidential [illegible] which his [illegible] considers a new [illegible] inexorable reelection. But it has always [illegible] a joke to talk of the expiration of Juarez's term as having anything to do with the matter. Maximilian cannot pretend to be his [illegible] for he [illegible] upon another and a [illegible] title. Republicans who have no means of proceeding to another election, will evidently consider that Juarez's rights are prolonged by circumstances [illegible] Juarez has finally [illegible] France has an advantage [illegible] to leave Maximilian [illegible] to his [illegible] the Debats, [illegible] Opinion Nationale [illegible] the Temps [illegible] this city. The French army must [illegible] away from [illegible] the sooner the better

SENATOR SHERMAN ON OUR FINANCIAL CONDITION. Senator John Sherman, of Ohio, in company with several prominent capitalists of New York and Pennsylvania, visited the coal regions of Pennsylvania recently. On the night of the 21st of November, while stopping at Mount Carbon, he was serenaded. In the course of his speech, he said "During the war Government was compelled to resort to the utmost limit of taxation? but I am happy to say that the business of Congress will be, after securing peace upon the basis of universal liberty, to relieve ourselves from taxation no longer necessary. In making this reduction we naturally look to those articles, the chief cost of which is labor. The foundation of wealth is and should be as free from burden as the air. The cheerfulness with which all classes and occupations bore taxes during the war makes it doubly the duty of Congress to lessen and equalize the taxes now. I confidently anticipate that in a short time the duties on imported goods, a moderate income tax, and taxes on luxuries, will enable us honorably to perform all our obligations."

LETTER FROM BEVERLY TUCKER TO SECRETARY SEWARD.—The Toronto Leader publishes a long letter from Beverly Tucker to Secretary Seward, dated August 29th remonstrating against the continuance of the reward for his apprehension on account of his alleged complicity with the assassination of President Lincoln. He states that he had no knowledge of the plot, and never heard Booth's name until after the deed had been committed. He insists that the lengthy conspiracy trial at Washington failed to elicit a particle of evidence against him, and in conclusion Mr Tucker appeals to Secretary Seward's sense of justice and honor to withdraw the stigma cast upon his (Tucker's) name, by the retention of his name in the list of persons for whose arrest a reward is offered. As an order from the War Department withdraws the offer of a reward for the apprehension of Tucker, and the rest of the Canadian outlaws, the present correspondence is only interesting as a portion of the history of the times

Once in a church, a young man who carried the collection plate before starting to collect, put his hand in his pocket as usual, and put a shilling, as he supposed on the plate and then passed it around the congregation, which numbered many young and pretty girls. The girls, as they looked at the plate, all seemed astonished and amused, and the young man taking a glance at the plate found that, instead of a shilling he had put a conversation lozenger on the plate, with the words, "Will you marry me?" in red letters, staring everybody in the face. None of the young ladies, however closed with the offer

The New York Times is wonderfully impressed with the chivalry and bravery of the rebels down in Mississippi and bases its admiration on a paragraph in a Columbus paper which states that because the negroes wouldn't work for nothing, the high toned turned out in force and tore down their cabins

SEIZURE OF TOBACCO AT RICHMOND.—No little sensation was created among the trade, on Wednesday by the seizure of tobacco purchased by John Jones, of this city, who is purchasing agent for Belmont and Co of New York, who are agents for the Rothschilds. It appears that during the morning, Col Loomis, who is agent for the treasury of the United States, called at Anderson's and Mayers warehouses and asked the inspectors if they had not some of Rothschilds tobacco stored there. The inspectors informed him they had, whereupon he directed it to be put in order for shipping. He was then asked by the inspectors, had he the usual tobacco notes? to which he replied that he had not but that he had a list of tobacco prepared by Snyder who is also an agent for Belmont and A Co. The inspectors, of course, had nothing further to say at the moment, and yielded assent. The amount in Anderson's warehouse is two hundred and fifty three hogsheads and in Myers one hundred and thirteen hogsheads. If we recollect rightly, the Confederate Government seized this same tobacco during the war, but subsequently gave it up to the owners.—Richmond Whig, Nov 23d

THE LONDON "TIMES" ON THE "SHENANDOAH" BUSINESS.—An editorial in the London Times of the 11th of November on this engrossing topic is thus epitomized by the correspondent of the N. Y. Times. "The Times of this morning has taken the trouble to set forth in time for this steamer the state of the case respecting the spoliation claims. It is natural that you should feel aggrieved and insulted. Your commerce was almost swept from the seas. France took the opportunity to establish an empire in Mexico, and shut out all hope of future progress in that direction. England also thought it a good time to consolidate and secure her own American possessions. As for those cruisers she denies all responsibility, and will not refer the claims to arbitration, or even consider them any further. You do not like this, but it is one of the evils incident to war to be borne with patience. Time is the great consoler. Wait, and you will feel better. Commerce is better than war. Another fight will only involve new losses.

When Mr Livingston the American Minister, who was quite deaf was introduced at the Court of Napoleon, he had prepared to answer the questions he supposed the Emperor would ask in regard to his passage across the Atlantic. Napoleon accosted him thus "How is Mr Jefferson?" "Very boisterous! very boisterous!" replied Mr Livingston to the great amusement of those present.

LATEST FROM A. WARD.—The latest effusion of the renowned Artemus, we have not yet seen in print. It is said that A. W. being at one of the New York churches recently edified the audience by his unexpected reply to the preacher's text which was as follows "How are the mighty fallen?" After a short time Artemus looked up inquiringly and said meekly "I give it up."

[PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.]

LAWS OF OREGON.

Passed at the Second Special Session of the Legislative Assembly, held December, 1865.

AN ACT to regulate Roads and Highways

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon,

Section 1. That section 6 of an act entitled an act to regulate roads approved October 20, 1860, be and the same is hereby repealed, and the following enacted in place thereof

Sec 6. That in all cases where an oath or affirmation is required to be taken by any person under the provisions of this act, the same may be administered by the surveyor or by one of the viewers, who have previously been sworn or affirmed

Sec. 2. That section 1 of an act entitled an act to amend an act entitled an act to regulate roads, approved October 20, 1860, be so amended as to read as follows

Sec 1. Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon, as follows. Section 19 of such act is hereby repealed, and the following enacted in place thereof

Sec 19. The county court shall annually at the February term thereof, except in Curry county, appoint a supervisor of roads for each road district in the county, and shall at any time, fill any vacancy that may occur in such office. The county court shall cause a certified copy of the order appointing a supervisor to be delivered to the sheriff or his deputy, who shall serve the same as soon as may be, which shall be notice of his approval and evidence of his authority to act as such. Each supervisor shall hold his office until the following term of the county court, and before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall take an oath to faithfully discharge the duties of his office, and when any person shall fail or refuse to accept the appointment of supervisor, he shall be fined the sum of twenty five dollars, to be appropriated to road purposes in the road district for which such person shall have been appointed, Provided, That no person shall be compelled to serve as supervisor more than one year in two; Provided, further, That the county court may excuse any supervisor from payment of said fine, upon being satisfied that such person ought not to have been appointed; and the county court shall have power at any time, to remove from office any supervisor who shall fail or refuse to perform his duty, and all vacancies shall be filled at the term of court at which any removal shall be made or vacancy occur, Provided, further, And if required by the court, shall enter into an undertaking to the county, with one or more sureties, to be approved by the court, in any sum specified by the court, not exceeding one thousand dollars to the effect that he will faithfully account for and pay over to his successor, all moneys that may be in his hands by virtue of his office. The county court shall have power, at any time, to remove from office any supervisor who shall fail, neglect or refuse the duties of his office

Sec 3. That section 21 of the before described act is hereby repealed, and the following enacted in place thereof

Sec 21. It shall be the duty of every supervisor of roads, on or before the fifteenth day of April, to obtain the names and make out in alphabetical order a list of all persons liable to perform labor on the public roads residing within his road district, and file the same with the county clerk, whose duty it shall be to affix to each name the amount of taxable property owned by each person residing or owning real property therein, for county rates the last preceding year

Sec. 4. That section 40 of said act is hereby repealed, and the following enacted in place thereof

Sec. 40. That when it shall appear to the satisfaction of any county court in this state, at any regular session thereof, by application of any supervisor in said county, to the above named court, that the construction of a bridge or bridges of ten feet span or more, is required to be made on the public highway in this district the court shall order that as soon as said bridge or bridges shall have been made of good sound timber of proper size, and put together in a good and substantial manner and covered with sound plank, at least two inches thick and not less than twelve feet long, and well spiked down, shall cause to be paid to the said supervisor the sum equal to the original cost of the plank and spikes so used, which shall be applied in payment of the same out of any money in the county treasury not otherwise appropriated, or for want of any money county orders may be issued in place thereof, and any person subject to perform road labor shall perform the same upon any road in the district which the supervisor may designate in his notice to perform work on the road

Approved, December 19, 1865

AN ACT to amend an act to regulate the Civil and Criminal Procedure in Justices' Courts

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon, That section 2 of said act is hereby repealed, and the following enacted in the place thereof

A justice's courts has jurisdiction of the following crimes committed or triable in their respective courts

1. Larceny where the punishment therefor may be imprisonment in the county jail or by fine,

2. Assault, and assault and battery, not charged to have been committed with intent to commit a felony, or in the course of a riot or with a dangerous weapon, or upon a public officer in the discharge of his duties,

3. Of any misdemeanor defined and made punishable by sections 570, 571 and 572 of the code of criminal procedure

4. Of any misdemeanor defined and made punishable by sections 601, 602, 603 and 606 of such code

5. Of any misdemeanor defined and made punishable by any provisions of chapter 11 of such code

6. Of any misdemeanor defined and made punishable by sections 685, 686, 667 and 689 of such code. Provided That in case of assault, and assault and battery over which a justice's court has jurisdiction a punishment may be imposed by fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars

That chapter 5 of said act be amended by the addition of the following sections to be numbered 29, 30 and 31

Sec 29. The justice may change the place of trial, on notice of either party to the action when it appears from the affidavit of such party either

1. That the justice is a party to, or directly interested in the event of the action, or connected by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree with the adverse party, or those for whom he prosecutes or defends

2. That the justice is so prejudiced against the party making the motion, that he cannot expect an impartial trial before said justice

3. That the convenience of parties and witnesses would be promoted by such change, and that the motion is not made for the purpose of delay. The motion for change of the place of trial cannot be made until within [illegible] any action until after the cause is at issue on a question of fact only, if the motion is allowed the change shall be made to the nearest justice. Neither party shall be entitled to more than one change of the place of trial except for causes not in existence when the first change was allowed. When the place of trial has been changed the justice shall forthwith transmit to the nearest justice a transcript of the proceedings had in such cause, with all the original papers filed therein

Sec. 30. The costs of such change of venue shall be paid by the party applying therefor and not taxed as a part of the costs in the case Provided. That it shall not be necessary to issue new subpœnas to witnesses but the witness shall appear before the justice before whom the cause has been transferred without the issue of any other notice than the allowance of the motion to change the venue

Sec 31. Upon the filing of the transcript and papers with the justice to whom the cause has been transferred the change of venue shall be deemed complete and thereafter the action shall proceed as though it had been commenced before such justice

Sec 2. As there is a deficiency in the jurisdiction of the justices court creating an emergency therefor this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval by the Governor

Approved December 19, 1865

AN ACT amendatory of an act entitled An act for the establishment of a Pilotage on the Columbia and Willamette Rivers approved Oct 21, 1864

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon

Section 1. That such such act be and the same is hereby amended by adding section 3, as follows

Sec 3. That any pilot having a license or branch from the pilot commissioner, who shall first speak any sea going vessel ascending or descending the river above Astoria, shall, whether such vessel want such pilot or not, be entitled to half pilotage fees

Approved December 19, 1865

THE STANDARD

AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!

AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS

MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of the above tables manufactured exclusively at their establishment

At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first class players of America, it was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship as the best and only reliable tables

These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges, who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability

Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office, and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government for our improvement in Billiard Cushions

We employ in the construction of our tables a variety of machines especially made for the purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture

Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards, and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch

The eminent French Billiard Player M. Berger has published the following opinion:

"New York 2d August 1861

"On the eve of leaving the United States I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that, after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior that I am happy to introduce their style of making into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration

BERGER CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris."

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.

Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The "Billiard Cue," a journal published in the interest of Billiards, and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards sent free on application

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above-mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once reinforced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The drooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER
INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING, CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these [illegible] it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Male or Female,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic
